

IN OUR CASE

Time both heals and perpetuates the pain,
the essential balance never reached needing too long to approach constancy, vulnerability
porous clarity,
the essence of misconnection -
too simple

seductive changes
defenses reign
trust (no gains)
no growth allowing different pace attachment stay
sadness weighs
connect and make same new mistakes, in the learning

options narrow -
within the context
left to find some new balance

talk is lacking,
sometimes
timing missing
action telling

the issue stands,
friends without the passion?
expectation claims,
the large and small of what we are

the issue stands,
friends within the passion?
anger fading

Time both heals and perpetuates the pain,
in our case,
needing balance
but leaving,
longburning friends
